

YOUNG INVINCIBLES

together, invincible

Founded in the summer of 2009 by a group of students, Young Invincibles (YI) has grown into one of the largest national youth advocacy organizations in the country. YI engages young people around health care, higher education, and financial security. Our headquarters are in DC, with regional offices in Houston, Chicago, New York City, Denver, and Los Angeles. We publish original research, engage in policy analysis and development, run large-scale public education campaigns, and more.

YI Advisors is the consulting arm of YI, offering services including unique Millennial research, communications and outreach campaign management, mobile app development, and strategic support.
